We take allergens very seriously.

While some of our dishes are prepared free from gluten, nut, sesame and other potential risks, they are however prepared in an environment where these items are handled by our chefs.
Every care is given to ensure there is no cross-contact but we cannot guarantee this will be the case.

Allergen information is available on request from the team for all dishes.

If you are in any doubt, please ask to speak with a manager.

A discretionary 12.5% service is added to tables, 100% of which goes directly to the staff.

Don't want to tip? That's cool, let us know and we'll take it off but please give us feedback of what we can do to improve our service to you!
